Mendes-France Places Pact Okay On Confidence Vote

PARIS (AP)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France demanded Friday night that the French National Assembly agree to the London conference plan for the rearmament of West Germany or get a new government.

Invoking his full constitutional powers, the Premier told the Assembly that he is making the nine-nation London agreement an issue of confidence in his government.

His announcement came shortly after midnight toward the end of a lively Assembly debate on Western defense.

The Assembly vote was set for 3 p.m. Tuesday (8 a.m. CST). Mendes-France was forced into placing the decision on a vote of confidence because the trend of a two-day debate disclosed he would otherwise have a difficult time in getting the sizeable majority required.

If the vote goes against the peppy Premier he will automatically be out of office and France will be plunged into a severe political crisis.

Mendes-France called for approval of the rearmament plan with no strings attached and a move developed in the Assembly to prevent the rebirth of a German general staff.

His demand was pegged to a Radical-Socialist (moderate) party motion expressing confidence in Mendes-France to continue the international negotiations opened in London. Mendes-France told the Assembly that motion was the only proposal his government would accept.

In reply to frequently expressed fears of a new German general staff, the Premier said safeguards envisaged in the London agreement would be more effective than those provided in the defunct European Defense Community treaty.

Mendes-France reiterated that the Saar dispute must be settled to France's satisfaction before the nation could be expected to approve German rearmament.

Several factions, spearheaded by Pierre-Henri Teitgen, leader of the Popular Republicans (MRP), supported motions which in effect would put restrictions on the general staff in any plan for West.

Violence Against Anti-Segregation Subversive: Oxnam

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Methodist bishop declared Friday that violence in refusing to obey the Supreme Court's ruling against segregation in schools is subversive.

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of Washington, D. C., addressing the Methodist Church's National Conference on Family Life, said the reaction to the desegregation ruling was "heartening beyond expression."

"But," he continued, "there are those among us who advocate disobedience to the law, who stand ready to use force to prohibit its execution."

"Resort to violence and refusal to obey the law is subversive and does more to undermine democratic government than any traitor Communist can do."

SUSPEND PARK ADMISSIONS
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Collection of admission fees at seven state parks will be suspended for the season Sunday, the State Conservation Department said Friday.

Admissions are charged at Illinois Beach, Starved Rock, Mississippi Palisades, Matthiessen White Pines, Pere Marquette and Grand Marais parks.

Order Election To Fill McCarran's Unexpired Term In U.S. Senate

CARSON CITY (AP)—An election Nov. 2 to fill the unexpired term of the late Democratic Sen. Pat McCarran was ordered Friday by the Nevada Supreme Court. The unanimous decision by the three-judge court was a victory for the Democrats.

The Republicans reportedly with White House backing had sought to prevent the vote. They argued that the appointee of Republican Gov. Charles Russell should serve out the remaining 27 months of McCarran's term.

Democrats charged the Republicans were trying to keep the voters from exercising their franchise. The Republicans denied it, saying they merely wanted to be sure that if a senator was elected he would be the legal occupant.

Reds Still Menace To Latin America, Former Envoy Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—John E. Peurifoy, former U.S. ambassador to Guatemala, reported Friday that the Kremlin-controlled Communists still pose a "very real menace" to Latin America despite their loss of Guatemala.

He said Guatemala, now under an Anti-Communist regime after last June's revolution was the first target in a Red conspiracy to gobble up Guatemala's "peaceful and vulnerable neighbors."

"The loss of Guatemala represents a serious setback to the Kremlin, not a final defeat," he told a special House subcommittee which is investigating communism in Latin America.

"The Red conspiracy... has not been completely crushed," Peurifoy is here en route to his new post as ambassador to Thailand.

Peurifoy said there was "no question that the former Guatemala government under Jacobo Arbenz was under tight Kremlin control and said Arbenz himself 'talked, thought, and acted' like a Communist."

This regime was overthrown in June in a revolution led by Col. Carlos Castillo Armas. Peurifoy said the new government is definitely Anti-Communist but is not intending to "turn back the clock" by eliminating legitimate reforms. The ambassador said some Communists remain in Guatemala but the backbone of Red power there has been broken.

Pointing out the closeness of Guatemala and its neighbors to the Panama Canal, Peurifoy said "The Soviets... were willing to pay a very high price in funds, manpower, organization propaganda and subversive skills to gain a base in Guatemala."

HOME-COOKED MEAL BETTER THAN CASH

CHICAGO (AP)—Five sailors who rescued a drowning boy think home-cooking, not cash, makes the best thank-you.

And home-cooked chicken it will be. The sailors have been granted special liberty from the Great Lakes Naval Training Station at suburban Waukegan and will be guests of Steve Stefancic Sunday.

Stefancic's son, Michael, 8, was pulled from Lake Michigan by the sailors. The boy fell into the water near Shedd Aquarium Sept. 18.

Stefancic offered the sailors $17, and Lloyd Lagoon, 17, all of Andre Menard, 18, Ronald Opine, 17, and Lloyd Lagoon, 17, all of St. Paul, Minn., and Flynn Wood, 18, of Mansfield, Ohio—a cash reward, but they returned it and asked for a home-cook meal with the boy.

John Roosevelt Declares GOP Congress A 'Must'

CHICAGO (AP)—John Roosevelt Friday declared that a Republican Congress is a "must" to "back up" President Eisenhower.

The son of the late Democratic President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, spoke in behalf of Ralph Lee Goodman, Republican opponent of Democrat Rep. Sidney R. Yates in the North Side 9th Congressional District.

"But I'm backing all Republican candidates," he said. "Make no mistake about that."

He added: "The record shows that on major legislation the Republicans in Congress have backed Eisenhower 82 per cent of the time and the Democrats only 45 per cent. Forty-five was a failing mark when I was in college."

Asked if his politics strains ties with his otherwise Democratic family, Roosevelt replied: "Not at all. That's the way we were reared—to think for ourselves."

Expel 5 Students As Climax To Car Deaths, Beer Party

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP)—Five students who participated in a beer drinking contest which preceded the auto deaths of two other contestants were expelled from Knox College Friday.

In announcing the action, the College refused to identify those expelled.

A spokesman said no action had been taken in the case of William Anzalone, 22, of Chicago, who still is hospitalized with injuries suffered Oct. 2 in the wreck of a car in which four students were returning to the college after the beer contest.

Anzalone's condition was described as serious.

The car left the highway, plunged down a 15-foot embankment and burned.

Fatally injured in the accident were Joe Burke Elliott, 20, of Kankakee, and John R. Spurlin, 20, of Park Ridge.

The fourth occupant of the car was identified as James Zourek, 19, of Cicero. He was injured less seriously.

Knox College officials said four-man teams from two fraternities had consumed 40 quarts of beer in their contest at Bracken, south of Galesburg.

Voodoo Believing Puerto Rican Kills Woman, Child, Girl

NEW YORK (AP)—A frenzied boarder in a cheap East Harlem tenement Friday beat to death a child, her grandmother and a young girl. Then he placed money on the bodies as a voodoo-like charm.

"They wanted to poison me," police quoted the killer, whom they identified as Benito Rivera Maldonado, 31, a squat, powerfully built Puerto Rican. He also claimed they wanted him to "marry" a dog.

The death weapons were a television set, two metal chairs and other furniture that came to hand. Money was found in the clothes of each of the victims and police said the killer put it there "to ward off evil spirits."

Drenched in his victims' blood, the slayer swung a baseball bat at police who closed in on him and shouted at them:

"Come and get me. I did it." He was overpowered amid a scene of dreadful carnage. The four-room apartment was bespattered with blood and its furniture smashed to bits.

Ike Ask For Election Of Republican Congress

Sentence Mistress Of English Peer For Wounding Him

SALISBURY, England (AP)—Mrs. Mavis Wheeler, vivacious 39-year-old blonde divorcee, was convicted Friday and sentenced to six months in jail for shooting Lord Vivian, London theatrical producer, in their lonely cottage love nest.

A jury of nine men and three women, deliberating three hours, acquitted the tall, shapely defendant of trying to murder the British peer, 48, during gunplay which climaxed a night of fancy drinking in a country pub.

The jury's verdict against her was twofold. Unlawful and malicious wounding of the one-time call boy in a San Francisco theater and illegal possession of the gun, a .45 caliber U.S. Army pistol.

During the five-day trial—avidly followed by most Britons—both Lord Vivian, married and the father of three children, and Mrs. Wheeler testified the shooting was an accident, one that happened to two people in love while playfully tussling for the gun.

John Roosevelt Declares GOP Congress A 'Must'

CHICAGO (AP)—John Roosevelt Friday declared that a Republican Congress is a "must" to "back up" President Eisenhower.

The son of the late Democratic President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, spoke in behalf of Ralph Lee Goodman, Republican opponent of Democrat Rep. Sidney R. Yates in the North Side 9th Congressional District.

"But I'm backing all Republican candidates," he said. "Make no mistake about that."

He added: "The record shows that on major legislation the Republicans in Congress have backed Eisenhower 82 per cent of the time and the Democrats only 45 per cent. Forty-five was a failing mark when I was in college."

Hurricane Hazel, 'Very Dangerous,' Drifts Westward

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Hazel, a storm too violent for the Navy's hurricane-hunting airmen to penetrate, continued to drift slowly westward Friday night across the Caribbean Sea.

At 4 p.m. (CST) advisory from the San Juan Weather Bureau reported that Hazel now is "a very dangerous storm" with winds up to 125 miles an hour raging over a 100-mile radius around the center.

It was centered at that time at Latitude 13.7 North Longitude 72.5 West, or about 345 miles due south of Port au Prince, Haiti, and 1,000 miles southeast of Florida. There are no land areas in its immediate path.

Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster in the Miami Weather Bureau, had predicted that Hazel would leave her due west course and move in a more northwesterly direction beginning Friday.

A hurricane hunter plane scouted the storm late Friday, keeping it under radar observation but not venturing into its areas of violent turbulence.

An earlier Navy hurricane hunter craft penetrated to the eye, but encountered such violence that one member of the 10-man crew was injured and the plane put into Guantanamo Naval Base, Cuba.

NEW STARS
PARIS (AP)—Thousands of new stars made their movie debut recently but they will never go to Hollywood.

The film was made at the Paris observatory through a powerful telescope beamed on the center of the milky way.

Andre Danjon, director of the observatory, said the stars had never been noticed before.

PRESIDENT DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

Attempted Pressure In FHA Case; Capehart

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) said Friday that "pressure" has been put on him not to investigate $50,000 in fees he said were paid to two Washington men for help in getting government-insured loans on housing projects.

"It makes me very suspicious of this whole thing," the senator said. "They can't put pressure on me and they might as well know it."

Capehart is chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, which is conducting a six-month investigation of federal housing practices. The inquiry has resulted in a shakeup of the Federal Housing Administration and several criminal cases have developed from it.

Capehart said the pressure had been exerted in telephone calls within the last 24 hours, but he did not go into any details.

Instead he began digging into the question of the fees, which he reported were paid by a dozen different firms to Richard McCormack and Marshall Diggs.

McCormack was to have testified Friday, but he was reported to be suffering from high blood pressure and nervousness and too ill to take the stand.

Diggs, identifying himself as a lawyer, testified that McCormack had brought him 12 clients interested in defense housing projects under the Wherry Act.

Each of these clients paid him a $5,000 fee, he said, adding that one was returned entirely but that he paid McCormack 50 per cent of the others, or a total of $37,500.

In no case, the witness insisted, did the FHA issue a mortgage commitment for his 11 clients. Diggs said he did not know what McCormack told the clients.

Asked if the $27,500 paid to McCormack was a loan, Diggs said it was not.

Simon asked him whether he knew any reason for McCormack's saying it was a loan, "other than he had not included" the money in his income tax return.

"No, sir," Diggs replied.

John H. Hill and R. Emerson Carson of Charleston, W. Va., testified they consulted with McCormack and Diggs about one defense housing project.

Capehart inquired of Hill whether McCormack had told him that Diggs was "virtually the father of the Wherry Act and knew many influential people."

Hill said he had a hazy recollection that McCormack might have said something like that. In any event, he said, he paid out $5,000 for proffered help in setting up a corporation and getting a government mortgage commitment.

The witness did not make clear to whom he paid the money.

Earlier, Arthur M. Chate, a Washington attorney, professed not to remember what he did with much of $155,000 in checks received from companies headed by Ian Woodner, New York and Washington builder.

GOVERNOR'S OPEN HOUSE OCT. 14
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Stratton will hold an "open house" session next Thursday, his first since July 22, his office announced Friday.

Stratton's schedule next week also includes a speech Monday at the State Federation of Labor convention in Peoria and dedication of an underpass in Centralis Tuesday.

Declares Red Menace Dealt With Decisively

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower Friday night made another fighting appeal for election of a Republican Congress and envisioned "a cold war of partisan politics" running riot if the Democrats recapture control of the legislative branch.

Addressing a nationwide television-radio audience and an approval-hawking capacity crowd of 5,500 at a GOP rally in Denver's Municipal Auditorium, the President declared the nation could wind up only "in the ditch" with a Republican driver in the White House and Democrats steering Congress.

The chief executive said American voters "got results" they wanted by electing a Republican President and a GOP-led Congress two years ago. And he appealed for maintaining the same "partnership" two more years so his program can be completed.

GOP congressional leaders and Colorado candidates were on the auditorium stage with Eisenhower to hear his warm praise of the work of the Republican 83rd Congress.

Vice President Nixon introduced Eisenhower to what he called "without doubt the greatest political rally ever held in America."

The President got a roaring standing ovation and the audience raised hundreds of signs declaring "We're backing Ike" as he stood at the rostrum with arms outstretched above his head.

The President got a burst of applause when he declared that American voters, in 1952, were determined "to eliminate penetration by the communist conspiracy in our government and in our whole society," and "did not consider that menace a red herring."

That was an indirect swat at the Truman administration's handling of the subversion problem.

Congressional leaders and other members of the party's high command were banking on the President's address to provide what they have termed "a shot in the arm" to GOP chances in the November Senate and House elections. Some of the leaders have confided privately they are worried about the outcome, although they talk publicly with restrained optimism.

Eisenhower's speech was a fighting one measured by the yardstick of the kind of campaign he has been carrying on. He stuck by his hard and fast policy of not dealing in personalities and he made no specific mention of Democrats.

But there was no mistaking Democrats were his target when he declared, for example, that his administration and the 83rd Congress have dealt "decisively with the Communist menace" at home. That got a hand.

The direction his dart was aimed was clear, too, when he asserted the present administration has "an honest, forthright foreign policy concerned with deeds, not words."

One of the biggest rounds of applause came when the President declared that "for the first time in 20 years there is no active battlefield anywhere in the world."

Eisenhower cautioned against what he termed the dangers of a politically divided government with the White House Republican and Congress under Democratic control.

Will Not Award '54 Nobel Peace Prize, Offer No Reason

OSLO, Norway (AP)—The Nobel Peace Prize is going begging this year—in one of the most peaceful periods the world has had in the last two decades.

The Norwegian Nobel Committee announced Friday the prize will not be awarded in 1954. It offered no reason. The committee has discontinued its former practice of issuing a list of nominees. Governments and individual organizations can make nominations for the $55,000 prize.

The prize was omitted also in 1948. While there was no award in 1952 either, the committee last year designated Dr. Albert Schweitzer to receive the 1952 prize and Gen. George C. Marshall for the award for 1953.

Others who have won the honor in recent years include Cordell Hull, Dr. Ralph J. Bunche and the American Friends Service Committee.

Under the will of Alfred Nobel, the prize is assigned to the candidate "who has worked the most and best for promoting brotherhood among people, and for the abolition of standing armies, and for the establishment and spread of peace congresses." The will of the inventor of dynamite also established annual prizes in literature, physics, chemistry and medicine.

OFFICE BOY, 68, LEAVES $150,000
CHICAGO (AP)—A 68-year-old bachelor who worked as an office boy left an estate of about $150,000, the coroner's office reported Friday.

Coroner Walter McCarron said the holdings of John W. Nelson, who died at a Chicago drug company Wednesday, included cash, stocks, government bonds and a savings account.

The coroner said he had learned that Nelson was a simple living man who never smoked, drank or saw a movie.

Hold Youth, 18, In Slaying Of Baby Sitter And Child, 4

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—An 18-year-old youth, who was a pallbearer at her funeral, was taken into custody Friday in connection with the savage knife slaying of baby-sitter Lynn Ann Smith and her four-year-old boy, Chappin.

Dist. Atty. Stephen A. Moynahan said Kenneth Chapin, who lives around the corner from the slain girl, "has given us a statement definitely implicating him" in the Sept. 25 slaying.

Moynahan said the youth will be arraigned Saturday on a murder charge.

The district attorney declined to discuss the motive for the brutal slayings or details of the alleged statement. He said young Chapin was picked up as the result of a "house-to-house check" Friday.

Investigators said a bayonet was used in the slayings.

Young Chapin, son of an electrician at the U.S. Army in Springfield, was described by his teachers as an "average student" at Technical High School. Teachers said he has not missed a school day since the slayings.

The youth's sister Beverly was described as a good friend of the slain girl. Friends said the two girls had planned to attend Emmanuel (Congregational) Church together the morning after the slayings.

In another room Robert Goldberg, 6, brother of Stephen, lay unharmed in his bed. Apparently he had saved his life by pulling the bed clothes over his head.

The double tragedy in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Goldberg in a substantial section of Springfield virtually terrorized the city. Two days ago, authorities reported indications of an increased sale of small arms ammunition.

LIBERACE TO MARRY—Liberace and the girl he will marry, "if she really loves me and wants to wait for me," are shown at a recent visit to a Hollywood club. She is Joane Rio, daughter of Eddie Rio, west coast head of the American Guild of Variety Artists. Liberace, who says he met Joane seven years ago, claims his marriage, if and when, must be a lasting thing, with no career interference.

THE LONDON AGREEMENT

The London conference that has brought a nine-power agreement to draw Germany politically and militarily into the Western European orbit may well be set down as one of the great events of the postwar era.

In the opinion of practiced observers, it is potentially stronger than the EDC plan killed this summer by France. For it places Britain in close alliance with continental Europe for the first time in history. That tremendous development explains why French Premier Mendes-France would initial this pact while opposing EDC.

Under the new agreement, West Germany will be invited to join NATO, the prime existing European defense setup.

It will also be made a signatory to the 1948 so-called Brussels treaty, which linked Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg in a military, economic and cultural union. Italy, too, will be added to this group.

The Brussels pact members will establish an agency for control of armaments on the European continent, for continental members of the Brussels groups. In addition, Germany has forsworn manufacture of atomic, biological and chemical weapons, guided missiles, bombers and large submarines.

The Bonn republic further pledged itself not to resort to force in any effort to reunify Germany or modify existing frontiers.

These limitations on German arms and national aspirations were crucial to France's acceptance of the nine-power agreement. Mendes-France actually pressed for even more, but in the end he signed the final compromise.

The French premier must be credited with having gained a lot that he sought. Yet it seems evident that detailed arrangements under an EDC pact would likewise have imposed restrictions on German armament.

What pushed Mendes-France to acceptance of the new treaty was his understanding that the other nations, and especially Britain and the U.S., were determined to approve German rearmament and political sovereignty with or without the French.

In that determined drive, Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, backed by the redoubtable Prime Minister Churchill, led the way. And their ultimate willingness to involve Britain closely in continental defense affairs was the really decisive factor.

German Chancellor Adenauer deserves to be hailed for his realistic acceptance of limitations on his country's arms. He is truly European-minded and sees Germany's future best served through association with the West.

The London agreement is a great turning point. France, like the others, must now ratify what has been done. But the French surely realize that all reasonable effort has been made to allay their fears of a revived Germany. If their Assembly should reject this pact, they would understand that the principles of the agreement would most likely be carried out anyway.

A great blow has been struck for Western solidarity and strength, and against the menacing Communist conspirators bent on global conquest. One cannot imagine the French have the nerve to undo in any way this historic work at London.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Is Manhattan the dirtiest and noisiest metropolitan area in the world?

If it is, you can't blame the natives. It's the outsiders who are giving us a bad name.

Let's look at the record:

Last year author Edna Ferber and Mrs. Wendell Wilkie agreed New York City was the dirtiest city in the world, and Miss Ferber even described it as "a scab on the face of our country."

This week Herbert Morrison, former British foreign secretary, told our mayor that New York City was "probably the noisiest city in the world."

He complained particularly about the horn-toting outside his hotel on Fifth avenue, and remarked that Paris had cured its taxi horns, so had London, and implied we might do well to follow suit.

All these critics, while directing their barbs at New York City, actually were commenting on the situation on the Island of Manhattan, which is the smallest of New York's five boroughs.

Admittedly, Manhattan is often noisy and sometimes gets pretty dirty. But why?

My theory is that it is largely the work of visitors who come here and fail to treat Manhattan with the same consideration they show their own communities. Isn't it human for a guy to blow off some steam away from his own home town in it?

Manhattan has about two million residents. But each work day some three to four million other people come here to earn a living, attend a convention, or go on a spree.

It is a known fact that the two million residential Manhattanites are peaceful, culture-loving, law-abiding citizens who spend most of their spare time going to art galleries or tramping on bird-watching jaunts through Central Park.

But how can they keep their 300-year-old community neat and clean when three to four million savage suburbanites and hinterland barbarians swarm into town every day, littering the streets and pavements with chewing gum, cigar butts, cigaret stubs and torn bus transfers?

But we make a game try. Some 4,500,000 tons of refuse are picked up each year (in the entire city) by the Department of Sanitation's 14,000 eager beaver collectors at a cost of 68 million dollars. Our white wings are convinced some people drive into the city just to throw their garbage on the streets.

Now about all that noise. What causes it? It stands to reason that when it comes to daytime noise our subdued, orderly two million residents can't equal in volume the sounds created by those three to four million outsiders.

As a matter of fact most of our local people just like to stand around and listen to the odd sounds the visitors make in their quest of fun.

We do plead guilty to quite a bit of industrial cacophony. Manhattan is a city that has never quite grown. It can't spread out so it climbs toward the sun.

You have to make a lot of noise when you tear down the buildings of the past and erect steel and stone business temples of the future.

But this is again done to please the outsiders. Most of the towering new office buildings and air-conditioned apartment houses will be inhabited by folks who never drew their first breath in Manhattan. Many say they don't like to live here—but where else can they earn so much lovely money?

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—First Bruto with Benelux. Then NATO. Then EDC. EDC was killed. Up sprang a bigger Bruto to take its place. NATO stands over Bruto. Sounds like a wild night in an alphabet menagerie.

Since each group of letters means something different from the others and all add up to increasing efforts by the West to find better defense against Russia, here is an explanation.

Bruto—The Brussels Treaty Organization. Born March 17, 1948. It had five members: Britain, France and the Benelux countries—Belgium, Netherlands, Luxembourg.

This was a 50-year agreement of mutual assistance by all five in case any of them was attacked. This first big postwar alliance in the West was soon superseded by a much bigger one, NATO.

NATO—The North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Born April 4, 1949. This is a 20-year mutual assistance agreement among 14 members: the five Bruto nations, plus the United States, Canada, Italy, Norway, Denmark, Iceland, Portugal, Turkey, Greece.

NATO went further than Bruto. The NATO members set up in Paris a general staff to plan defense against Russia. But there was a gap in the defense so long as West Germany was kept unarmed.

How could it be permitted to remain brought into the Western alliance and still be prevented from some day becoming a menace to its allies and neighbors? A French premier, Rene Pleven, proposed a solution.

EDC—The European Defense Community. Pleven suggested it Oct. 26, 1952. This plan called for a single European army with six members: France, West Germany, Italy, the three Benelux countries.

They'd give up their individual national armies and merge them in EDC under a unified command of their own choosing. In this way it was thought Germany never again could have a national army which might be a threat to her neighbors.

Fearing Germany might sometime get control of EDC, France urged Britain to join EDC as assurance against the British refusal. The French Parliament killed the EDC idea Aug. 30, 1954.

Searching fast for another solution, the Western Allies came up with the idea of a new and bigger Brussels Treaty Organization as a substitute.

Nine nations signed an agreement on Oct. 3, 1954: the United States and Canada, which wouldn't which would the five old Bruto powers—Britain, France and the Benelux countries plus two new ones, Germany and Italy.

The new Bruto is only an agreement, not a reality. It can't come into existence until the parliaments of the seven proposed members approve. Here are some details of what this new Bruto agreement means.

Whereas the EDC members would have given up their national armies and merged them in a single European army, the Bruto members will keep their individual armies.

West Germany would become NATO's 15th member. All the other Bruto countries already are in NATO. And Bruto's forces would be under the overall command of NATO's general staff.

And NATO could limit the size of each Bruto nation's armaments. For example, the number of tanks the Germans could have. The Bruto members themselves would check on one another through a special agency to prevent cheating.

Further, Bruto's members through their own special council would decide the size of each member's armed forces. Thus France by a veto could kill any proposal to increase the size of Germany's army. At the beginning Germany will be permitted 400,000 troops, 80,000 airmen, a naval force of 20,000.

Germany can produce military aircraft of any kind except strategic bombers, but NATO can limit the number. And Germany will have a naval force for coastal defense of vessels under 3,000 tons.

But Germany can't make atomic or biological weapons. There is no such ban on the other Bruto members except as they agree among themselves.

Britain promises to keep at least four divisions and a tactical air force on the continent for the life of 84.99 years. But while NATO and Bruto can control the amount of British armament and the number of British troops on the continent, no such control exists over what Britain does on the Continent, does at home.

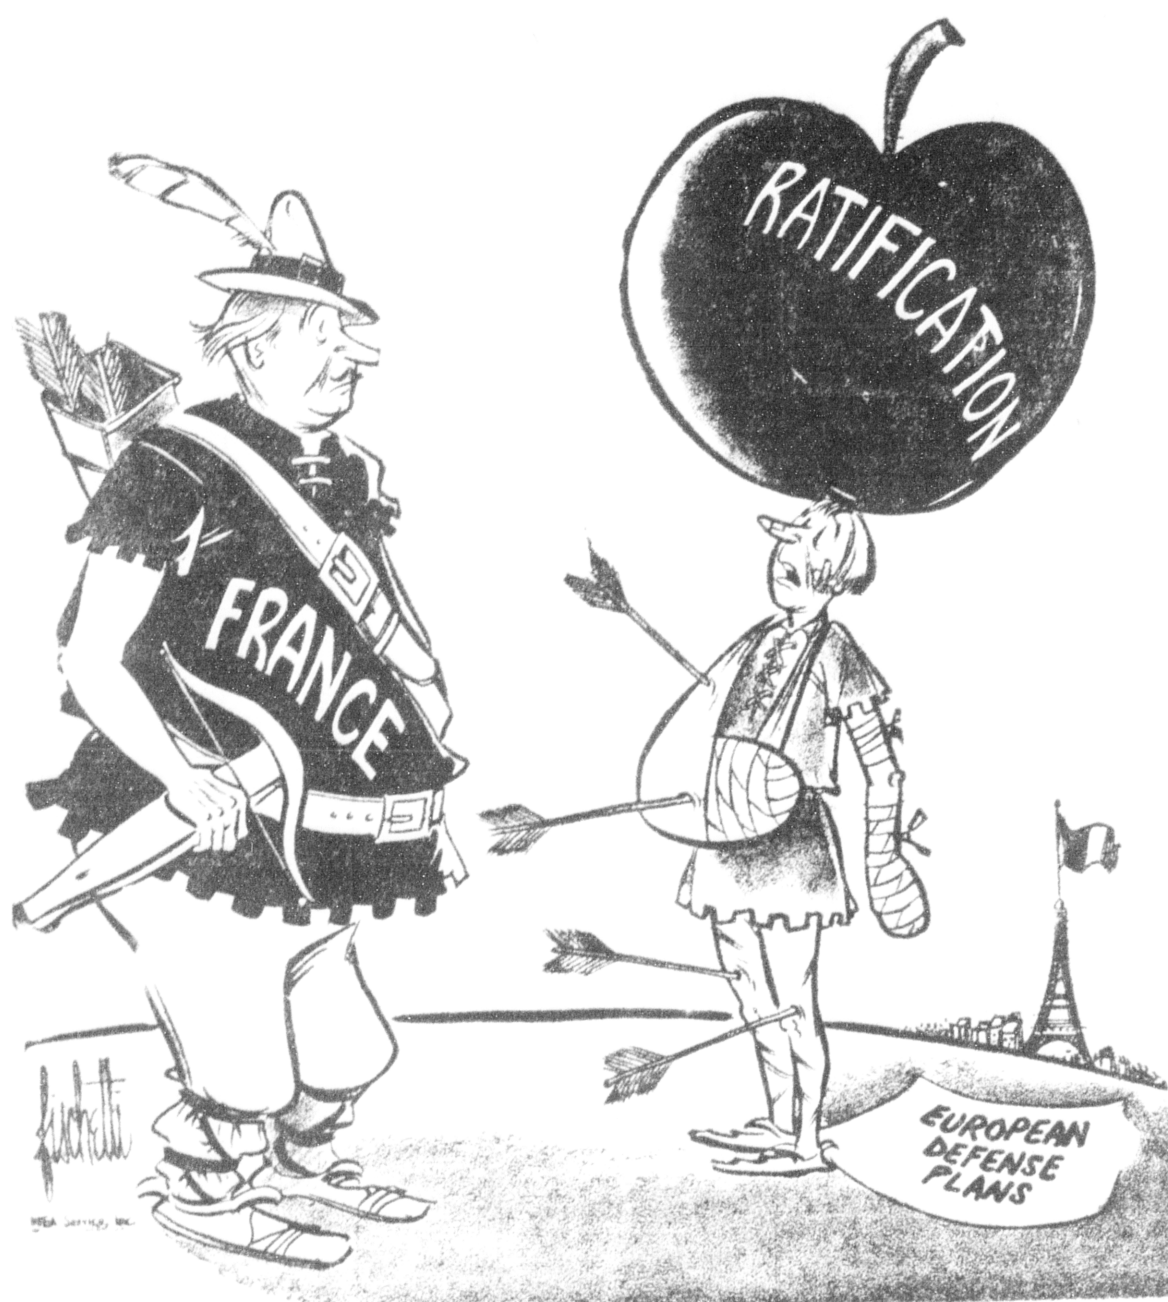

Nevertheless, the French got what they wanted when Britain promised to keep troops on the Continent. The United States, a member of NATO but not of Bruto, had indicated it would keep armed forces on the Continent for the life of NATO, which is 20 years.

There Is No Set Remedy for Cramps; Each Case Must Be Analyzed for Cause

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

What is apparently a common and is certainly a complicated problem is raised in today's first letter.

Q—How can I be relieved from cramps in my legs and feet?

A—Muscular cramps particularly in the legs can come from a variety of causes, some of which are still poorly understood. One of the most common, particularly in elderly people, is known as intermittent claudication. In this form the cramps are not present when resting but come on after exertion such as walking. This is associated with poor circulation usually due to hardening of the arteries in the legs.

Another form which seems to be quite common are those cramps which come on at night during bed rest and frequently awaken the patient. These are common among those who are not elderly and have no obvious sign of hardening of the arteries. In some of these the cause seems to be related to a lowering of the calcium in the blood.

In summary it is not safe to recommend a treatment for cramps in the legs until the nature of the cramps has been analyzed and the probable cause studied by appropriate examination.

Q—Is there anything which can be done to make a scab less noticeable? This scab was received in an auto accident.

A—You might inquire from your physician or a skin specialist whether the new steel brush method or the somewhat older sandpaper method could be used to obliterate the scar or at least make it less conspicuous.

Q—How many bananas can one safely consume at one time?

A—I am puzzled to know why one should want to eat more than one at a time unless engaged in a contest.

Q—What is folie acid and what is it used for?

A—This is a vitamin preparation normally present in certain plant and animal tissues. Its principal use in medicine is in certain kinds of anemia.

Q—Can one go on taking small doses of gold salt injections for arthritis indefinitely?

A—In all probability your physician would not recommend this indefinitely but only as long as the treatment was bringing improvement.

Q—Please tell me what a chalazion is?

A—This is a small tumor of the eyelid resulting from the accumulation of secretions in a gland located there. It can often be successfully treated with minor surgery.

Q—A neighbor has installed a gas burner in his furnace and since doing so the fumes from the chimney at night have made my throat and nasal passages smart and my eyes run. Should I be concerned about this?

A—If your symptoms are definitely from irritating fumes from a gas furnace something should surely be done since you may be exposed to serious harm.

Conviction of Col. Fleming Opens Door to More Trials

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The conviction and dishonorable discharge sentence of Lt. Col. Harry Fleming for collaborating with the Communists while a prisoner of war in Korea is going to launch at least a dozen more trials in this category.

One is expected to involve a graduate of West Point.

Fleming's conviction has also raised the boiling point a feud inside the Pentagon, which has been warring on the whole question of the handling of these POW cases.

Out of the 3600 men who were prisoners of war in Korea, investigators were made against 215 of them for various suspected illegal activities. Out of this number 78 were considered serious enough to be presented to the Dept. of Army most of the 215 men with bad records on POW Collaboration, all of whom the remaining cases are still honorable discharges, and giving alive and more information is being gathered on them.

From the list of 78 the Board and the Dept. of Defense officials agreed that there was enough evidence to go to trial on 43, including Fleming.

Cpl. Claude J. Batchelor and Cpl. Edward Dickerson, who have also been convicted, are among the 43.

THE GENERAL OF THE COMMAND in which a man is assigned the authority to order a man later brought to trial. They have specifically refused to act on six cases, which leaves 34 still pending.

Another item of irritation of some Army experts is the abruptness with which the Department of Defense has stepped into the picture. It took it upon itself to limit the authority of the generals with this decision to make have delayed action, should go to trial. It hasn't forced a general to call a trial. But it has said which cases he cannot send to trial.

Also within the Army there is a large group of officers who believe that there has been too much official talking which has tended to cause of the conduct of the suspected POW's. All of the 34 might be brought to trial. And none of the original 215 can consider himself free yet.

The dispute within the Pentagon over the handling of POW crimes involves complex issues and is but only one of the many things that the Army is faced with. The private Air Force opinion is that each airman is worth such an investigation. His main mission is to get out of a POW camp alive so that he can fly again.

THIS POINT IS CONSIDERED a vital factor in future frontline Army discipline, however. The Army feels that it just cannot let a man get away with surrendering too soon or cooperating with the enemy after capture because it might encourage many more men to do the same thing later.

Many officers in the Army also feel the Marine Corps just made a public relations gesture by its trial of Col. Frank H. Schwable, a former POW who ended up in effect being a general. They think from becoming a general. They feel the Marines are covered up on them for various suspected illegal activities.

Within the Army there is disagreement about having allowed POW's leave the Army with bad records. POW's leave the Army with bad records and are still honorable discharges, and giving alive and more information is being gathered on them.

It's felt that 99 per cent of the officers and men who are captured can tell everything they know. The private Air Force opinion is that each airman is worth such an investigation. His main mission is to get out of a POW camp alive so that he can fly again.

Berserk Gunman Fatally Shot In 90 Minute Gun War

NEW YORK (AP)—A berserk gunman battled more than 100 police for 90 minutes in a Harlem apartment house Thursday before he was fatally wounded.

Dozens of the building's residents huddled terror-stricken in their apartments while Robert Ricks, 47, Negro cook, led police a running chase and finally shot it out with them at a six-story structure. He was riddled by bullets.

Two plainclothesmen investigating bookmaking were questioning another man in another apartment hallway when Ricks entered. The officers said Ricks fled when he saw them and ignored orders to halt. They chased him and he began firing.

At one point he shouted: "I'm going to die—I'm on the stuff." Police said they believe he was referring to narcotics addiction.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The world has been so preoccupied recently with Southeast Asia, Formosa and the battle for Germany that growing tension between Israel and the Arab states has attracted little attention.

Oddly enough, the tension has increased in almost direct ratio to talk of peace.

Israel has been greatly disturbed by two factors—the British agreement to withdraw troops from Suez, where they stood between Israel and the Egyptian army, and resumption of Anglo-American arms shipments to the Arab states.

On Sept. 17 the ambassadors of the eight Arab states appeared to the great powers to give them greater military and economic aid to deter Israel from any attack.

On Oct. 2 Britain offered to sponsor peace talks, especially between Jordan and Israel, designed to settle the border disputes which have led to so many shootings.

This week Israel offered before the United Nations to make non-aggression pacts with the Arab states guaranteeing territorial integrity and political independence, banning all hostile acts and agreeing to settle all disputes through negotiations.

The only Arab reaction so far was an immediate statement on the floor of the General Assembly by the Egyptian delegate that "it is impossible for one moment to consider the peaceful intentions of Israel as genuine."

And there it is. Israel is convinced that the Arabs are interested in arms solely to put themselves in position to resume the war which was halted in 1948 by a U.N.-negotiated armistice.

The Arabs are convinced that Israel's immigration policy, which seeks to concentrate most of the world's Jews in Palestine, means that eventually the new state will tend to burst its bounds, moping further on Arab lands.

One thing needed in connection with the new arms shipments to the Arabs is a renewal and new emphasis on the Anglo-French-American post-armistice statement that they will not countenance any more war in the area. They have sufficient influence to enforce it on Israel, especially because of her economic dependence on the United States. They might, instead of selling arms to the Arabs, put them on a lend-lease basis with a threat to yank them out if they are used for any aggressive purpose.

St. Clair County Highway Supt. Devereux Murphy and Belleville City Atty. P. K. Johnson Jr. opposed the petition. Henry Driemeyer of East St. Louis, representing the railroad, said his position was that if the ICC give permission based on public need, the permit should die when another means of access to the 39 acres is created.

Murphy said the County Board of Supervisors would not grant Gerold a permit to use the state aid route lane. He said the county planned a five-mile-long expressway along Route 42 and did not want to set precedents in allowing access.

John Thompson, Belleville City engineer, said a grade crossing as asked by Gerold would create traffic hazards, maintenance expense and possibly involve the city in the cost of providing automatic traffic signals.

Bovine Royalty To Ride In Parade As Dairy Show Opens

CHICAGO (AP)—Prize cows will ride majestically along Chicago's main business street Saturday, marking the official opening of the International Dairy Show, a four-million dollar exposition.

The normal business traffic along a stretch of busy State Street will give way to an 86-unit parade, including floats bearing Holsteins, Brown Swes and Miking Short-horns.

Among notables before whom the pride of American dairylands will be paraded is Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Benson will cut the ribbon officially opening the show at the International Amphitheatre and then make an address at a luncheon of exhibition officials, exhibitors and city bigwigs.

Sponsors of the show estimate cattle from 27 states and Canada and Cuba will compete for $45,000 in prize money. Among exhibitors are boy and girl members of the 4H Club and Future Farmers of America.

The show, the second annual event, continues through Oct. 16.

Siamese Twins Needing Surgery Die In Operation

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Siamese twins who were given little chance of reaching maturity with out separation are dead after a surgical attempt to separate them.

The twin girls, Connie and Bonnie, died during an operation at University Hospital here "Thursday" after more than four hours on the operating table.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Johnson, Negro couple from Pine Bluff, Ark., requested the operation after being told there was little hope their children would reach maturity if they remained joined.

They were born July 26 with the sternum bone, which normally lies between the ribs, joining them face-to-face.

Thursday's surgery revealed that the infants' hearts were fused and practically formed a common organ.

END OF AN ERA
PITTSBURGH (AP)—The horse and buggy days in Pittsburgh have ended—officially.

Just before Labor Day city officials decreed the last remaining horse watering trough in the midtown section be dismantled.

The decision came nearly nine months after the city disbanded its mounted police horse troop as an economy measure.

Officials said since the police horses have gone there aren't enough horses around to justify the expense of keeping the water trough in operation.

The couples can offer no special recipe for a happy married life, but Drackley said that "give and take" is a must.

Driver Lives As Car Plunges Into 1,000 Foot Canyon

DENVER (AP)—An automobile plunged off a mountain road and tumbled 1,000 feet into a canyon—but the occupant escaped with deep cuts and a possible arm fracture.

Doctors at Lowry Air Force Base today described the survival of Airman I.C. Oscar L. Kimmel, Redfield, Ark., as miraculous.

Investigating officers said Kimmel apparently fell asleep while driving on U. S. 550 near Silverton, Colo., Wednesday night. His car plunged off the highway, fell 150 feet to the canyon wall, losing its motor, and then tumbled another 800 to 900 feet to the Las Animas River bed.

The officers said Kimmel regained consciousness beside the river and finally made his way along a railroad track. He was spotted 10 hours after the accident by another airman. Kimmel is in the base hospital.

Adam to Zeb

Adam was the first man to walk this earth. Zeb is a young fellow from the Middle West.

Centuries separate them from one another. But they have a great experience in common. Each has walked with God.

The names of Adam and Zeb are pages apart in the encyclopedia of human history. And in between them are countless millions of other names. Each belongs to a man who has lived, and who has had opportunity to walk with God.

Churchmen's Week, soon to be celebrated throughout our land, is the symbol of the unity of America's men in their worship of God, their Creator, and of Jesus Christ, their Saviour. Participate in the services and rallies which will mark this week of spiritual dedication in your community.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a repository of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

FEW TAKERS

BOONE, N. C.—It's not easy to give money away. At least that's the conclusion of J. B. Johnson, who likes to study human psychology.

With 10 crisp one dollar bills, Johnson recently stood on a street corner here and offered money to 23 pedestrians. Only three people accepted dollar bills.

"Truth of the matter is humans don't trust each other anymore," Johnson observed. For instance, one woman told him, "Young man, don't bother me, I'm not interested in your tricks." Another said sharply, "Please, out of my way."

The experiment led Johnson to this summation: "People work hard for money. Some steal it. Some try to manufacture it. But few will let you give it to them."

SETTLEMENT TEXAS-STYLE

DALLAS, Tex.—A judge gave Leslie Johnson, 35, five years in jail for his method of "collecting" $9 for damages to his car after a minor collision.

Testimony said Johnson got out and settled the ensuing argument by drawing a pistol and pesting the other driver to hand over $9.

GETTING ACQUAINTED—Two junior members of the woods show mutual interest as they meet over a tree stump at Algonquin Park in Ontario, Canada. The young deer and squirrel were just being friendly.

PIGEONS PUNCTUAL

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—C. C. Ridgick, a janitor at a bank here, likes to be on time for his work and he likes pigeons. As he leaves his home for work he throws grain or bread crumbs to pigeons who have learned to know him and who wait for him in a nearby churchyard. If he is late the pigeons go to his doorstep across the street and their cooing informs him that the clock is ticking past his breakfast time.

RENT'S MIGHTY HIGH

MANCHESTER, Conn. (AP)—The Army-Navy club has discovered that it owes 10 years rent. It leased the club from the town, but once the lease was signed nobody bothered about the agreed rental price—a year.

Kills Rattler In Tomato Patch At Jersey Co. Home

JERSEYVILLE—A diamond back rattlesnake was killed Wednesday by William Ontis, who resides in the Shaw Hollow in the Fieldon vicinity.

Ontis was gathering tomatoes in his garden when he heard the unmistakable warning buzz of a rattler. He parted the tomato vines in the vicinity from which the sound emanated and saw the snake coiled near the base of a large tomato plant.

Ontis returned to the house for his rifle, but reported the head of the snake moved so rapidly as it buzzed a warning that he was unable to shoot it. He went for a club and returned and clubbed the rattler to death.

The snake measured four feet in length and was about the size of a man's arm in circumference. The reptile had eight rattles and a button.

Ontis reported that he has been hunting for the snake's mate as they are usually found in pairs but up to Thursday afternoon the other rattler had not been found.

Observers report that snakes are moving to their winter quarters with the approach of colder weather. The rattlers of western Jersey generally den up near this season of the year in rock caves. It is claimed they always return in the autumn to the same cave or rock cranny where they have always spent their winter hibernation period.

CRIMSONS HAND BEARDSTOWN 28-14 LOSS

Rockets Rampage Over Arenzville 32-13

Line Plays Rugged Ball As J.H.S. Wins Second Game In Row

Visitors Draw First Blood: Routt Rallies To Gain 3rd Victory

Coach Jim Smarjesse's Routt Rockets caught fire in the second and third quarters after a slow start to hand Arenzville a 32-13 walloping in a PMBC conference football game on the Jacksonville High school athletic field last night.

The crushing victory was Routt's third of the season against no losses and one tie. Arenzville's record is now one win and two defeats.

Arenzville's Raiders took the lead early in the first quarter after half-back Mullens recovered a Routt fumble and moments later scampered 8 yards for the tally. The conversion attempt failed.

Routt bounced back quickly. Long runs by Fredericks DeVore and Dee put the ball on the Arenzville 13 in four plays.

Then Fredericks plunged over on an "accidental" reverse—quarterback DeVore handed off to Dee on a quick-opener, but Dee, finding his hole blocked, latered to Fredericks who raced around the other end to pay dirt.

Dee fumbled on an attempt to run for the extra point.

In the second period, Routt broke loose quickly. Halfback Dee roared 48 yards through the Arenzville defense for a TD within the first minute. Paul Casler booted the extra point to give the Rockets a 13-6 lead.

Coach Don Kemp's Raiders took the ball, but couldn't move it through the bigger Routt line. With the ball on his own 45, Mullen got off a short, wobbly punt which went out of bounds on the Routt 48.

Routt's Fredericks reeled off seven yards on the first play, then quarterback DeVore took matters into his own hands and raced 45 yards for another touchdown. Casler's extra point try fell short, and the half ended with Routt in the lead 19-6.

The slaughter continued in the third quarter. The Rockets kicked off, but took over quickly on downs on their own 36.

George Dee sprinted to the Arenzville ten on the first play, then crashed over for six points on the second. Casler once more put the ball between the uprights to give the Rockets a 26-6 lead.

Routt's final tally came near the end of the third quarter as DeVore took the ball on his own 20 and ripped 80 yards through nine—no eight—Arenzville defenders. The officials spotted the ninth Raider player and called an illegal position penalty on the play, but Routt, naturally, declined. Casler's try for extra point was blocked.

Arenzville's second and final score came in the first minutes of the fourth quarter as quarterback Hart flipped a short pass, just over the line, to Roegge who grabbed it, spun, and ran 51 unmolested yards to the end zone.

Halfback Allen ran the extra point across—he was hit on the three, but fell with outstretched arms holding the tip of the ball just over the line.

Routt's superior size told the story. Arenzville's fast backs just couldn't get started, and it proved equally impossible to move through the air—quarterback Hart completed just one of his four pass attempts.

DeVore, Routt's field general, threw twice and connected once.

Pittsfield Tromps Greenfield 50-0

GREENFIELD—(Special)—A potent Pittsfield eleven smashed to a 50-0 victory over host Greenfield last night in a lopsided grid contest which observers believe may strain Illinois Valley Conference athletic relationships.

Coach Glen Smith's big, fast Pittsfield squad ran up an early lead and was never threatened, though Smith sent in his subs in wholesale lots midway in the final quarter.

Report Says Moore On Way Out As Phillie Skipper

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Terry Moore is on his way out as manager of the Philadelphia Phillies and Frank Lefty O'Doul, former National League batting champion and veteran Pacific Coast League manager, may succeed him, it was reported here Friday.

The report is that Moore, who announced he would be back during a late season series in Brooklyn last month, is being given the polite brushoff. The official Phillies' family apparently wasn't impressed with the fireworks Moore set off in Milwaukee where he accused his players of open rebellion.

Moore charged the players broke training in front of him and were out to break any manager they didn't like. He was particularly incensed by a news story second baseman Grady Hamner gave to the Associated Press saying the Phillies treated their players like babies, not big leaguers.

O'Doul, who has been reported in line for many major league managerial jobs in recent years, managed San Diego in the Coast League this year. He was a successful manager of the San Francisco Seals in the same loop for some time. O'Doul won the National League hitting title with a .368 average in 1929 with the Phillies, and repeated with the Brooklyn Dodgers with a .368 average in 1933.

The 57-year-old O'Doul was one of the most popular players in the history of the Phillies. Fuel has been added to the O'Doul fire by a recent trip to the west coast by General Manager Roy Hamey and by the club's inaction in announcing the signing of a new manager for next year, especially since Moore publicly said he'd be back.

However, since Moore made his announcement and since the blow-up in Milwaukee, nothing has been said about a 1955 Philadelphia skipper. "I haven't talked to Terry yet," Hamey said. There is no hurry. We still have plenty of time.

Hamey's attitude seems to indicate a new skipper is in prospect, since the Phillies admittedly need an overhauling.

ISD Hosts Staunton At 2:30; Blueboys Travel To Principia

Two local teams complete the weekend of sports activity for the local fans this afternoon when the ISD Tigers play host to Staunton at 2:30 and the Illinois College Blueboys travel to Principia for a Prairie Conference game beginning at 2 o'clock.

Coach Jim Spink's Tigers take a 2-1 record into today's battle. The ISD boys defeated Petersburg and Oklahoma last night, losing to MI Sterling. The visiting Staunton team has a respectable record of 2-1 also. They defeated Cathedral and Litchfield while losing to a tough Edwardsville club.

Coach Spink has seen the visitors in action and expects a rough and tumble ball game. They run from a single wing and tight "T." Their line is big, especially the tackles, according to Spink.

The Tigers will start with Kullik or Marjan at center, Brinkman and Phelps at guards, Schultz and Thrash at tackles and Zachary and Embree at ends. The backfield will find Duncan at quarterback, Kane and Klekot at halfbacks and Rampley at fullback.

The other local team in action this afternoon will be the IC Blueboys who travel to Principia. This will be the second start of the season for the Hilltoppers. Last week Coach Miller's eleven defeated Eureka 2-0 in their first Prairie Conference game. The Principia battle will be the second game of the season for both clubs. Principia defeated Carthage 13-7 in its opener.

Coach Miller is in doubts about his starting lineup. A broken hand will keep end Jim Frame from starting although he may see limited action. Ridings will be at one end this afternoon with Robinson or Horsley at the other flanker position. If Horsley doesn't start at end he will be at a tackle with McKinzie at the other. Hazelrigg and Goodey will be at guards with Curtiss at center. Bob Winstead will direct the team from the split "T" with Barnes, Vierck and Scott at the halfback spots and Capotosto at fullback.

Cards Not Too Serious About Trading Musial

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—St. Louis Cardinals fans were assured Friday the club has given "no serious consideration" to trading outfielder Stan Musial, its $80,000-a-year slugger star.

General manager Dick Meyer acknowledged Stan the Man's name had come up in conversations with the Milwaukee Braves, but added:

"No one is untouchable when a ball club finishes sixth, but there was no serious consideration of trading Musial. A deal for him would have to be overpowering in our favor."

BROOKS-ORIOLES SWAP

BROOKLYN—(AP)—Ray Moore, righthanded pitcher for Brooklyn's St. Paul farm in the American Association, has been sold to the Baltimore Orioles for infielder Vinicio Garcia, an undisclosed amount of cash and a player to be delivered by Dec. 1.

Carrollton Whips Pleasant Hill 14-6 In One-Sided Tilt

CARROLLTON—(Special)—Carrollton's Hawks handed visiting Pleasant Hill a 14-6 licking in a one-sided Illinois Valley Conference football game here last night.

Carrollton took the lead in the first quarter as Baumgartner crossed the line on a 12-yard pass play. Quarterback Loyd Darr made the toss.

The host's second and final tally came in the second quarter as Journey smashed two yards off right tackle to reach pay dirt. Both Carrollton conversion attempts were good.

Pleasant Hill's Wolves made their lone six-point in the third quarter as an Edwards-to-Dabney pass connected for 30 yards.

By quarters:

Carrollton 7 7 0 0—14

Pleasant Hill 0 0 6 0—6

Oklahoma, Texas Top Today's Grid Card; Ohio State At Illini

By HUGH FULLERTON JR. By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oklahoma and Texas, two of the most potent football teams in the southwest, if not in the entire nation, meet Saturday in the 49th game of an old and colorful series. And the result could leave the national rankings as thoroughly scrambled as Oklahoma's lineup has been since Gene Calame got hurt.

Because of their high ratings and their tradition of playing fast and furious football in their annual clash at the Texas State Fair, these teams get top billing over such encounters as Wisconsin vs. Rice, Iowa vs. Michigan and Purdue vs. Duke.

Oklahoma was awarded the No. 1 spot on the national list this week by the sports writers and broadcasters voting in the Associated Press ranking poll after Notre Dame, the former leader, took a tumble Texas, in spite of a loss to Notre Dame collected enough points for 15th place.

Calame, a clever, experienced quarterback, suffered a cracked collar bone in Oklahoma's game against Texas Christian two weeks ago. That could be called a calamity. The Sooners never lost a game Gene started at quarterback and his replacement, a 164-pound sophomore Jimmy Harris, isn't his equal at faking ball-handling and reading the enemy defense. Two other injuries caused Coach Bud Wilkinson to make a total of eight changes in his first and second lineups.

As a result of all this and of the strength of the Texas line, the odds-makers have disregarded the ratings and installed Texas as a slight favorite.

Wisconsin-Rice is the nationally televised game of the week and, for once, the screen watchers can't complain that they were short-changed by the selection. They're third and 11th in the AP ratings, respectively, and offer a duel between two of the season's best-publicized backs, explosive Dickie Moogile of Rice and Wisconsin's crashing Alan Ameche.

Purdue-Duke brings together the fifth and sixth teams in the AP poll. It was Stu Holcomb's Purdue Boilermakers and sophomore passer Len Dawson who deflated Notre Dame last week. Today Duke with four back flankers in its starting backfield and one of the nation's best pass defense records, is primed to do a little deflating.

In other games of prime importance, based on the national ratings, UCLA No. 2 plays just a fair Washington team; Iowa 4 takes on Michigan; Mississippi 7 meets Vanderbilt; Notre Dame 8 tries a comeback against twice-beaten Pitt and Ohio State 10 meets speedy but shell-shocked Illinois.

Four Big Ten teams will be making their first league starts, including Illinois, Michigan, Northwestern and Minnesota. Michigan entertains Iowa 1-0. Northwestern and Minnesota collides at Minneapolis.

The fourth conference game is at Bloomington, Ind., with co-champion Michigan State whose title chances almost have been ruined by two straight loss defeats facing the once-beaten Indiana Hoosiers.

Ohio State's Buckeyes, triumphant over California and Indiana, and Minnesota's Gophers, holding verdicts over Nebraska and Pitt, are favored against co-champion Illinois and Northwestern respectively.

Although the Illini will be making their first Big Ten start, their title stock has skidded after defeats by Penn State and Stanford. J. C. Caroline thus far has been just another halfback for Illinois.

Northwestern's Wildcats showed promise in a 12-7 defeat by Southern California last week after winning over Iowa State. The Wildcats fumbles helped the outmanned Trojans.

Iowa's Hawkeyes, clicking impressively in victories over Michigan State and Montana, are picked by 13 points over the injury-beset Wolverines of Michigan. Although Michigan State's star halfback LeRoy Bolden will miss his first game in four seasons because of injury, the Spartans are favored over Indiana whose fleet halfback Mill Campbell also is ailing.

At Pittsburgh, Notre Dame is expected to bounce back from its defeat by Purdue against the twice-thumped Pitt Panthers. Marquette seeks its first victory after two losses against Cincinnati at Milwaukee in a Saturday night game.

Purdue-Duke Battle To Draw Capacity Crowd

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Purdue's Boilermakers, hoping to rivet a third victory onto their season's string of two, meet Duke's unbeaten Blue Devils Saturday in a game that is expected to draw a near-capacity football crowd to Ross-Ade Stadium.

Both will be aiming for top ranking honors. Purdue was rated fifth and Duke sixth in the nation in this week's Associated Press poll.

National attention shifted to Purdue last Saturday when the Boilermakers upset Notre Dame 27-14 after the previous week's win over Missouri 31-0.

But Duke has been in the spotlight, too, with its 52-0 drubbing of Pennsylvania and 7-6 defeat of Tennessee.

All eyes will be on Lenny Dawson, Purdue's 19-year-old quarterback whose forward passing touch-down production this season has been phenomenal. His two-game total is eight.

But Duke has a reputation for pass defense, having allowed Pennsylvania and Tennessee to average only 40.5 yards in nine completions out of 29 tries. Duke defenders intercepted seven of their opponents' aeriels.

Purdue has memories of last year's meeting at Durham, N. C., where quarterback Jerry Barger scored in the last 39 seconds to beat the Boilermakers 20-14.

The Blue Devils also have a sophomore sensation of their own in quarterback Sonny Jurgesen, who engineered touchdowns against both Tennessee and Penn. Furthermore, Worth Lutz moved from quarterback to fullback this year, carried with him a fine line-throwing arm which Duke has yet to exploit to the fullest this year.

Both squads were expected to have most hands ready for action. Purdue coach Stu Holcomb said he expects to stick to the starting lineup used against Notre Dame with the single exception of injured left end Bob Springer. He will be replaced by senior John Kerr.

The third period Coach Krauschar substituted freely and the Crimson scored their final TD set up by a pass from Lewis to Knight and highlighted by a long 49 yard TD run by Larry Scott. Woodward kicked the extra point and the Crimson led 28-7.

The second Beardstown TD came in the final period. The hosts took over on their own 20 and a pass interference penalty against the Jaxs placed the ball on the Jacksonville 32 yard line. Bingham passed to Summey who carried to the 20. Bingham then took the ball to the six on an end run before Elmore went over for the score. Bingham kicked the extra point and the score ended 28-14.

Beardstown had the ball deep in the Jacksonville territory with a few seconds to go after blocking a Crimson kick but the horn blew to end the battle. The Crimson made seven first downs while the losers had six.

Winchester Tromps Roodhouse 47-7 In Valley Grid Battle

ROODHOUSE—(Special)—A heavy, fast Winchester eleven handed the Roodhouse Railroaders a crushing 47-7 defeat in an Illinois Valley Conference contest here last night.

Coach Charles Brooks inexperienced, sophomore-laden squad stood up well in the first quarter, holding a 7-0 lead until the whistle sounded.

But the decline started in the second quarter, and the fall came hard and fast in the third and fourth.

Roodhouse drew first blood in the early minutes as a 20-yard Houseman-to-Cooper pass produced six points. Houseman rifled the ball between the uprights for the extra point.

And that was all for the hosts. Winchester's Wildcats broke out of their cage in the second quarter, scoring twice on a 3-yard plunge by Penton and a Redshaw-to-Lashmet pass good for 50 yards and six points.

A 40-yard run by Jefferson and a Redshaw-to-Penton pass good for 20 yards gave the visitors a 27-7 lead at the end of the third quarter.

As the slaughter continued in the fourth quarter, Winchester's Lashmet plunged over three times, first from the four, again from the two and finally from the 25.

By quarters:

Roodhouse 7 0 0 0—7

Winchester 0 13 14 20—47

Virginia Mangles Chandlerville In 58-19 Grid Battle

VIRGINIA—(Special)—Chandlerville came here to play football last night, but went home a couple of hours later on the wrong end of a basketball score. A bigger, faster Virginia eleven smashed into an early lead and was never threatened as it rolled to an easy 58-19 victory.

The first quarter ended 23-0 for the hosts. Three touchdowns produced on long runs by Jim Smith and Pat Dooling and a safety accounted for the stunning margin.

Smith and Don Martin reeled off 26 and 48 yard runs, respectively to add 14 more points in the second quarter and give Virginia a 37-0 halftime lead.

Jim Marr passed to Felton to Virginia's only third period TD. Duckwiler scored Chandlerville's first touchdown on a ten-yard plunge later in the quarter.

A 35 yard run by Young and Pat Dooling's 84-yard sprint gave Virginia its last tallies in the final quarter. Chandlerville scored twice during the period on a one-yard smash by Salzman and a 20-yard run by Hoon.

By quarters:

Virginia 23 14 7 14—58

Chandlerville 0 0 13 13—19

Billy Smith KO's Harold Johnson In Light Heavy Bout

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Boardwalk Billy Smith, 173½, scored a startling upset Friday night by knocking out Harold Johnson, 174½ Philadelphia, No. 1 light heavyweight title contender, in 1:22 of the second round of a scheduled 10-round bout at the arena.

Smith, who came east from Oakland, Calif., two years ago to make Atlantic City, N. J., his home, smashed Johnson with a hard right to the side of the face, sending the Philadelphian sprawling to the canvas. Johnson made an effort to regain his feet, moving to his knees, but he sagged to the ring floor and took the ten count.

This was Johnson's first fight since he was stopped last Aug. 11 in Madison Square Garden by 175-pound champion Archie Moore in the 14th round of a title fight.

Smith, a 33-year-old veteran of 81 fights, was the No. 4 ranking light heavyweight before Friday night's fight. He was at least a 2-to-1 underdog and was considered a stepping stone for Johnson in a campaign to earn another crack at Moore's title.

Ameche, Moegle Highlight Today's Grid TV Program

By CHRIS EDMONDS

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A national television audience will get a good look Saturday at two of collegiate football's best running backs.

Alan (The Horse) Ameche, battering 210-pound Wisconsin fullback, and Dicky Moegle, Rice Institute's South-west Conference "Swish Kid," will match talents in intersectional action at Camp Randall Stadium before a sellout crowd of 50,000 plus countless more along the coast-to-coast TV cable.

The word to the living room viewers was to keep an eye on Wisconsin's No. 36 and Rice's No. 47. Ameche and Moegle, respectively.

The broad-shouldered Ameche is the key man in Wisconsin's running attack. The guy who carries the ball when first down yardage is vital. He's a typical, old-time fullback in that he's soon run over a tackler as fast as a step.

And he's not so fast but that he can be caught from behind. His average yardage in the Badgers' wins over Marquette and Michigan State is 74 in 35 carries.

Moegle is a distinctly opposite type. A 181-pounder, he relies on speed and deception, which means he's at his best on wide plays and pichtouts. In Rice's triumphs over Florida and Cornell, he carried only 16 times but shows a two-game average of 13.7 yards per try.

Both teams, touted as top championship bets in their respective conferences, will operate off the straight T primarily. Both, however, will vary their offense frequently. Rice uses flankers and quite a bit of man-in-motion stuff, while Wisconsin will do some of the same and also will shift into the single wing on occasion.

Although Moegle is the man to stop in the Rice attack, Ameche will get ample support from quarterbacks Jim Miller and Jim Huluska, both outstanding passers. Between the two, they've completed 19 of 25 passes for 263 yards and three touchdowns this year. Rice has thrown only infrequently, scoring all 11 of its touchdowns on the ground.

Wisconsin's line will outwork the Owl forwards by an average of 12 pounds per man.

The Badgers, ranked third this week in the AP poll, were two-touchdown favorites over the Owls, who held the 11th spot in the national balloting.

Bluffs Rolls To Easy 33-6 Victory Over Host Chapin

CHAPIN—(Special)—Chapin's Bearcats fell 33-6 before a stronger Bluffs Bluejay eleven in a runaway PMBC eight-man football game here last night.

The hosts held Bluffs scoreless in the first quarter, but youth and inexperience began to tell in the second as Bluffs scored the first six-point of the game.

The Bluejays added a pair of TDs in both the third and fourth quarter to pile up their final margin.

Atkinson scored two of the Bluffs TD's and Graves three. Revising a nearly-lost gridiron art, Graves dropped two extra points for Harold Hillman's Bluejays.

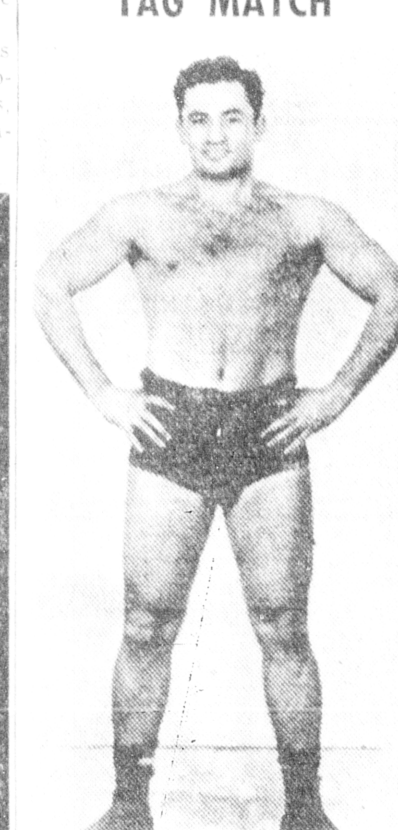

Griffin galloped 43 yards in the final period for the Bearcats' only score.

By quarters:

Bluffs 0 6 14 13—33

Chapin 0 0 0 6—6

BEANS RISE AS REST OF MARKET EASES

By WILLIAM FERRIS
CHICAGO — Soybeans moved up for gains of 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 cents on the Board of Trade Friday while the rest of the market eased quietly on week end profit taking. The reason for the ability of soybeans to stand out firmly was the weather. Some unexpected rains came to the northern part of the soybean growing territory overnight. Persistent wet weather has caused a halt in harvesting for nearly two weeks.

At one time all oats futures except December scored new seasonal highs but only July held its gains through to the finish. Wheat closed 7 1/2 lower to 1 1/2 higher, corn 1 1/4 lower, oats 1 lower to 1/2 higher, rye 1 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, soybeans 2 1/2-3 1/2 higher and lard unchanged to 25 cents a hundred pounds higher.

The Quaker Oats Company, in its regular weekly crop summary said that in Illinois about 80 per cent of the soybean crop has been harvested, in Iowa only 25 per cent and in Minnesota only 10 per cent. "It is feared that there will be heavy losses by shattering should the wet weather continue", the company added.

Wheat moved upward in early dealings on news Norway had purchased a substantial amount of flour overnight. It fell back later on profit taking. Wheat closed the week with gains, the more distant futures being up most despite the fact the drought in the southwestern winter wheat belt was pretty well broken during the week.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK — Steels stood out Friday in a steady stock market.

Price changes most of the time were rather small. At the close they extended from about 2 points higher to around a point lower. Steels were joined on the higher side by the rails, rubbers, a number of oils, some aircrafts, and the airlines.

Key motors were depressed along with radio-televisions, a few copers, and the utilities as a group. The day was one of moderation throughout with no pronounced movements developing along the way.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed unchanged at $137.30, just a dime under the high of the year set back Tuesday. That was the best level for the average in 25 years.

The industrial component of the average remained unchanged while the railroads were up 30 cents and the utilities lost 10 cents.

There were 13 more losers in the list than gainers with 442 stocks rising and 455 falling out of the 1,189 individual issues traded.

Volume at 2,120,000 was in the neighborhood of the daily average so far this year. Thursday's total in a slightly lower market was 1,810,000 shares.

Tide Water Associated Oil was the day's most active issue up 1/2 at 26 1/2 on 86,000 shares. Directors have approved a new plan of recapitalization.

Gains and losses were in fairly even balance on the American Stock Exchange. Trading amounted to 870,000 shares. That compares with 660,000 shares traded Thursday.

Police reported their crime spree netted $295. Judge Sigmund Stefanzow of Boys Court set their bonds at a total of $450,000.

Declares Red Menace Dealt With Decisively

"You know perfectly well," he said, "that you just can't have one car with two drivers at the steering wheel and expect to end up any place but in the ditch—especially when the drivers are set on going in the opposite direction."

The President was interrupted at least 42 times during his speech by applause.

The President said "a cold war of partisan politics between the Congress and the executive branch" would block achievement of the goals which he said he feels can be attained through continued Republican control of Congress.

Jabbing at the Democrats, Eisenhower said that when Americans went to the polls in 1952 and voted the Republicans into power, they "were determined to eliminate penetration by the Communist conspiracy in our government and in our whole society. They did not consider it a red herring."

The President's "red herring" remark was a verbal poke at the Truman Administration's handling of the Subversion problem.

Eisenhower's address was patterned in a large part after the fighting speech he made Sept. 23 in Los Angeles' Hollywood Bowl. "You cannot have efficient federal government when the Congress wants to follow one philosophy of government and the executive branch another," the President declared.

"In our system of government, progress is made when the leaders of the executive branch and the majority of the Congress are members of the same political party."

"The unsurpassed record of the 83rd Congress is shining evidence of this truth."

Eisenhower then added that "history shows that when the executive and the legislative branches are politically in conflict, politics in Washington runs riot." He went on to say that under such circumstances "the public goes begging while politics is played for politics sake."

"Progress slows or stops. For partisan reasons, good laws are pigeonholed. For partisan reasons, in the eyes of the world, we appear divided in council and uncertain in purpose."

The President spoke as the Republican high command made no secret of its hope that his address would provide what Vice President Nixon called "A tremendous shot in the arm" toward a GOP victory in November.

The party's congressional leaders arrived in Denver during the day to take their place with Eisenhower on the speakers' stand. Publicly they expressed confidence the party will continue to sit in the congressional drivers' seat after the November elections, but privately some of them spoke of concern about the outcome.

3 Eisenhower's TV-radio address was directed largely to party workers and recruits marking "Precinct Workers Day" at an estimated 26-500 rallies from coast to coast. The White House estimated that 1-250,000 persons at those rallies were tuned in to the broadcasts from Denver.

As he did in his Los Angeles speech two weeks ago, the President mentioned what he called "compelling reasons why the completion of your great (administration) program requires the election of a Republican-led Congress."

XXIII
MRS. OSWALD rattled her demitasse, used it as a lever to call the meeting to order.

"I have been thinking this matter over," she announced. "Outsiders are present and must be completely satisfied. We do not care to have more talk later. Therefore I have decided that Mrs. Argyle is incompetent to handle the investigation. Tomorrow I intend calling in the State Police. Or at least some outside competent officials."

Jim could recognize an intentional bombshell when it was tossed. He tried to read the meaning of the various expressions of surprise on faces which quickly assumed the blankness of disappointment and a disagreement which must at all costs never be expressed openly.

He waited for Sheriff Agnes to protest, but it was only Mrs. Hilton who ventured a question. "Really, Mrs. Oswald, is that necessary?"

"I wouldn't do it otherwise," he old woman snapped. "I want his matter cleared up entirely. Mrs. Hilton, I want no after-effects."

A member of the family, deep thought. And the remaining members who might be involved sat over cups of coffee and planned coldly. No sign of grief. Were they too hardened or too well schooled for that?

Mrs. Hilton looked across at Jim and smiled. "But it is necessary to call in more outsiders?" she asked. "We have Sheriff Dunn with us, who I understand is a professional. Why not let him make what investigations you feel Aggie is incapable of conducting?"

For the fraction of a second, Jim saw a gleam of triumph in Mrs. Oswald's eyes. He realized she had deliberately jockeyed the situation so someone would make that very suggestion. But she had learned not to give it without a show of resistance, even when it was her own desire which had been suggested. "Mr. Dunn is employed by Mrs. Kit," she said. "That fact might prejudice him in her favor." A diamond-studded claw reached for a brandy glass.

Jim took the opportunity to catch the old woman's eye. He winked at her.

Mrs. Oswald coughed. She put the glass down.

Jim looked at Sheriff Agnes. The woman's coffee cup shook in her strong fingers, but she voiced no objection. "Mrs. Kit is my client," Jim said. "I intend to make a full investigation anyway." Dunn blamed the company for the almost stilted words.

Mrs. Oswald pressed ahead. "However, if it was agreed among us that you were in charge, certain information and facilities would be available. There would be a cooperation which I do not think you would have otherwise."

"True enough," Jim admitted. "But suppose there would be expected an equal amount of cooperation on my part? In other and blunter words, I'd be expected to suppress anything which could be considered detrimental to the Carlson family?"

"Not at all," Mrs. Oswald lied. "We all want the whole truth, of course."

JIM DUNN awakened suddenly from a restless dream-ridden sleep. A glance at his luminous watch told him it was two-thirty. He blamed the ghastly hour for his anxiety, for his sudden wakefulness, his owl-eyed awareness.

REWARD FOR COURAGE
MARQUETTE, Mich. (P)—George Cardinal, 41 is a free man because he risked his life in the rescue of two fishermen on stormswep Lake Superior.
Cardinal, an inmate at the Pospiscine Mountains prison camp, went out on the dangerous waters in a rowboat and saved two of four fishermen who had been thrown out of their boat by the storm.
He was paroled to the custody of an Ontonagon, Mich., garage owner, who was one of several businessmen who offered to give Cardinal a job if he was released when word of the rescue worked out.

Beside him, Nancy breathed softly.

He decided he might as well get up and have a cigarette. The decision must have brought relaxation of sorts. He must have dozed, because Nancy was shaking him.

"Jim! Jim! Wake up. Quit snoring. And there's someone at the door."

He flipped on a light, struggled into his robe, and stumbled to the door.

Agnes Argyle stood there, brought into sharp relief by the Dunns' light.

"It's—It's Mother," Agnes said. "It's Mrs. Oswald. She's been poisoned."

Almost as shocking as the words themselves was the fact that Sheriff Agnes was crying.

IT was full daylight, a morning of blue sky filled with broken white clouds pushed swiftly by a high altitude wind, before the doctor pronounced Mrs. Oswald out of danger and ready to see Jim Dunn. Jim's drastic emergency measures of the night before, the fact that arsenic used in the taxidermy work had suggested the poison, and the circumstance of the doctor himself being handy in Creek Junction, had combined to make the swift recovery possible.

When Jim went in the huge bedroom in the old part of the house, the dim light made it almost impossible for him to see the small figure in the huge old-fashioned bed with its solid cherrywood head and foot. Mrs. Oswald was an almost imperceptible mound in the expanse of white blanket.

Jim drew the curtains aside. Mrs. Oswald showed little sign of her ordeal except a new touch of fragility.

"You keep your supply of arsenic locked up?"

"No. Anyone could have gotten some. Everyone knows I use it. It's in a paper bag right there on my studio workbench."

"Perhaps you got a quantity in your mouth by accident?"

"I haven't the strength to waste on silly questions."

Huge Machine Bites Out Trench For Pipe Line; 800 Feet Laid

When workmen for the Torson Construction company of Kansas City, completed operations Thursday evening more than 800 feet of prestressed concrete pipe for Jacksonville's 23 mile water transmission line to the Illinois river had been put in place.

The work on the big pipeline was started Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock on the Harvey Vortman farm about three miles east of Bluffs, where the large back-hoe digger started removing dirt and placing the 16 foot, 30 inch pipe weighing 5200 pounds in the trench.

S. Jacksonville Passes 1 Cent Cigaret Tax

A one cent per pack cigarette tax on retail dealers was passed by the South Jacksonville village board Thursday night by unanimous vote. The new tax becomes effective Nov. 1 in the village.

The ordinance providing for the tax is similar to the one adopted by the Jacksonville city council last summer, and which is now in effect.

All retail dealers in cigarettes are required to register with the South Jacksonville village clerk, and to make monthly reports in payments of taxes.

Immediately after passage of the ordinance the village board passed a resolution placing all cigarette tax receipts in a special building fund for a new village hall. Village officials estimated that the tax will bring about $2,500 annually into the treasury.

President Otis Axe presided over the session. Second and final reading of the ordinance was made by T. C. Rammekamp, attorney for the village.

Pleads Guilty After Jurors Are Summoned

Sixteen prospective jurors were in the Morgan county court Friday morning ready to serve in the trial of Gerald Newingham of Rockhouse, charged with petty larceny, when the defendant changed his plea of innocent to guilty. Newingham had previously pleaded innocent on Aug. 9, asking a trial by jury.

Judge Penzlermaker fined him $100 and costs and admitted him to probation for one year. There was no evidence of any previous conviction.

Newingham was accused of the theft of a five gallon chicken fountain, screens, a rake and paint brush from the farm of James Haden, where he formerly resided.

State's Attorney Hall conducted the prosecution, and Newingham was represented by Cox, Smith, & Bassett of Wood River.

Earth Comes Out, Pipe Goes In

Here is a photographic record of the start of construction of Jacksonville's water transmission line from the Illinois river. First ground was broken on the Harvey Vortman farm, three miles east of Bluffs. The big back-hoe digger of the Torson Construction Co., Kansas City, Mo., is shown gouging ponderous chunks of earth from the route of the pipe line. Prestressed concrete pipe lies nearby, ready for installation as soon as the digger moves along.

United Christian Students To Hold Second Session

The United Christian Student group, including students from both MacMurray and Illinois College, and sponsored by the churches represented in the Jacksonville Ministerial Association, will meet for the second time Sunday, Oct. 10 at 7:00 p.m. at Central Christian Church. The group held its first meeting at which more than 150 students were present, on Sunday, Sept. 26, at the same church.

The program for the second meeting is entitled "Student in the Churches," and is designed to acquaint students with the opportunities there are for them for worship, work, and fellowship in the churches of Jacksonville. Dr. Malcolm Stewart, Professor of Philosophy and Religion at Illinois College, will speak on the intent of the colleges regarding the participation of students in the activities of local churches, and selected students will discuss both opportunities present and past experiences. Ministers will briefly describe local church programs. Women of the First Presbyterian Church will serve refreshments.

It is the intent of the planning committee to formally organize the United Christian Student group at this meeting, selecting a steering committee of students, with ministerial and faculty advisors, to plan further programs, set dates and places of meeting, and work out organizational details for the group.

Noxious Fumes Killed 1,000 Birds

SALINA, Kan. (AP)—Noxious fumes apparently killed the 500 to 1,000 birds found at the Smoky Hill Air Force Base Thursday.

Bill Houston, Kansas Wesleyan University student biologist, said Friday he performed autopsies on several of the birds and found all suffered lung hemorrhages, indicating asphyxiation.

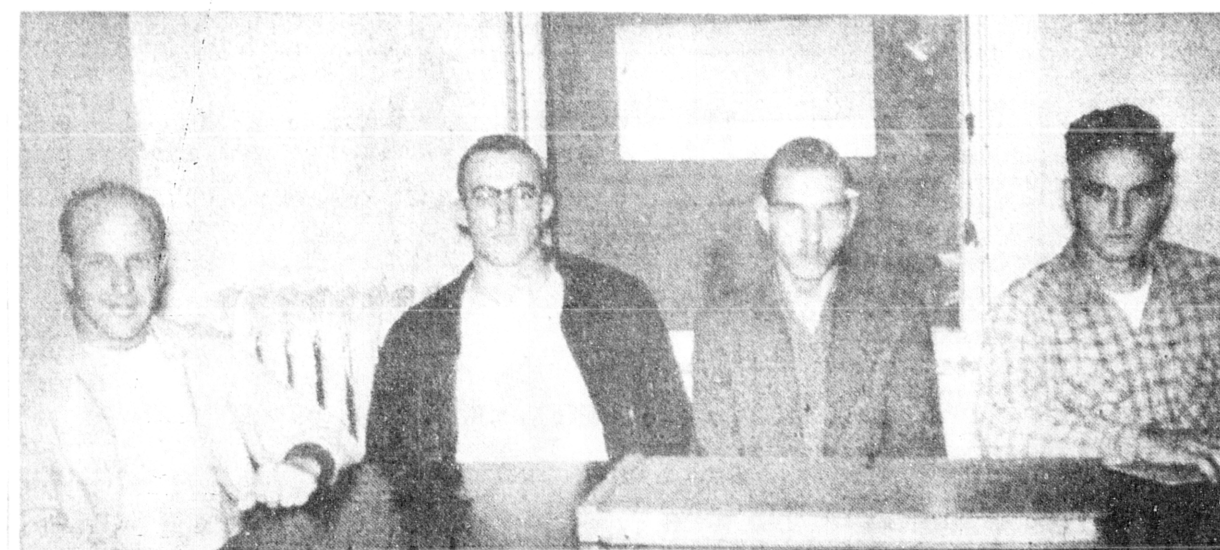

A team of University of Kansas naturalists is coming here to make an investigation. A theory held by some is that fumes from planes collected 3,000 to 4,000 feet above the air base at the bottom of a stabilized air mass—a condition described as a temperature inversion. The air acts as a blanket, it was explained, holding down air gases. In cities, this creates smog.

TRAINMAN INJURED
IN G. M. & O. DERAILMENT
VARNA, Ill. (AP)—Four cars left the tracks and one trainman was reported injured Thursday in the derailment of a Gulf Mobile & Ohio Railroad freight train near Varna, north of Peoria in Marshall County.

State police said the train was derailed after it struck a big truck. The truck driver was not hurt. The name of the injured trainman was not learned immediately.

JUST A HOLDUP
POINT ROUGE, Que. (AP)—Two men took $10,000 from a safe in a credit union office Thursday, police reported, after telling cashier Francoise Paquette: "Don't be afraid. This is just a holdup."

Four Leave For Army Induction

NO WONDER HE COULDN'T READ THIS LETTER

Two years ago next month when Our Saviour's church was conducting a clothing drive for overseas relief, Danny Tholen, 514 Pine street, contributed a winter coat. He didn't know where the coat went—in fact, he forgot about it.

The other day a strange looking letter was delivered to Danny's house. It was in a handwritten note that he or his parents could not read. It was written in Greek.

Mr. Tholen took the letter to John Carl, who translated the words. The letter was from nine year old Christos Komissas, who expressed his thanks that an American family would be so kind to send him a warm coat. A photograph of the child wearing the coat was enclosed in the letter.

Christos said there are seven children in his family, and that the used garment from Jacksonville comes in mighty handy on cold days.

Hear Convention Report At Legion Auxiliary Meet

The American Legion Auxiliary of Post 279 met Wednesday night, Oct. 6 at the Legion home with the president, Irene Vernon, in charge. A very interesting report was made by Trilby Skinner, third division president on the national convention held recently at Washington, D. C. Reports were also heard from Edna Daly, Margaret Nell, Hazel Ward, Jean Robinson, Nellie Wandell, Elizabeth Doolin, Andrea Lyvingood, Dorothy Reynolds, Mildred Smith and Irene Vernon on the district meeting held Oct. 4 in Beardstown.

A movie, "Let Your Voice Be Heard," was shown to the members. Frank Robinson was introduced by Ella Ashby. Mr. Robinson spoke on the funds available for the education of orphans of veterans.

The attendance prize was won by Edna Daly. Refreshments were served by Ella Ashby, Zella Reid, Hazel Ward, Jean Bailey and Dorothy Brennan.

The next meeting program will be arranged by Grace Cowgur, veteran's craft chairman.

DRIVER GETS MORE THAN SHE ASKED

CINCINNATI (AP)—All she wanted was a hamburger and a soft drink to go the woman motorist told the drive-in car hop.

Soon two paper bags appeared on the service ledge. The customer opened her packages at home. In one was the hamburger; in the other—no pop, but $100 in receipts.

"Send my drink and you can have the money," she telephoned the restaurant.

The restaurant didn't say who the woman was and didn't explain how the mixup occurred. But service on the call was prompt.

Louis Baileys Golden Wedding To Be Marked

Informal open house from 7 to 9 o'clock Saturday evening will celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bailey, 503 South Prairie street. Friends and relatives of the couple are cordially invited to call.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey have been spending their time at the home of their son, Russell, in Milton, who has been an invalid for some time. They are making special plans to be in Jacksonville for the Open House arranged by their daughter, Mrs. Frank Rowland.

Louise Bailey and Stella Carlton were married Oct. 12, 1904 at the Christian church in Scott county. Mrs. Bailey was employed for 20 years at the Jacksonville State Hospital and has for the past few years been retired. Mr. Bailey was employed a number of years at the Diamond Grove cemetery.

FIREMAN'S SENSE OF DUTY COSTS LIFE

CHICAGO (AP)—The body of a vacationing deputy fire marshal who responded to a routine alarm was recovered Friday from the ruins of a building in which 14 other fire fighters were injured.

His devotion to his job resulted in Paul H. Connors, 60, a sixth ranking member of the Chicago Fire Department, being plunged into the basement of a two-story building at 3148 W. Roosevelt Rd. Thursday night with three firemen when the floor collapsed.

Ordered by Connors to "get out quick," the firemen climbed hoses to safety. Connors, however, was trapped by falling timbers and died in the fire.

Fire department officials said Connors, a veteran of 36 years with the department, returned to Chicago Wednesday from a vacation in Verona, Ill., to take part in Fire Prevention Week activities. His vacation still had a week to go.

They said he dashed to the fatal fire when a routine box alarm was sounded.

Eleven of the injured firemen were overcome by escaping gas. Fire Marshal Michael Corrigan estimated damage to the building and a restaurant on the ground floor at $25,000.

That means Chessman's case is again in the hands of the Supreme Court of the United States and he cannot be executed until at least 60 days after that court acts. Chessman's attorney, Berwyn Rice, said he understood the high court plans to consider the case Wednesday.
